Committee Reports – Deferred to Next Meeting

Superintendent's Report - Updates:

Dr. Rianna stated that the last couple of weeks have been fun and exciting for our students as many of them have taken part in elections and veteran day activities. It was great to hear the speeches that the students prepared as they ran for office. I give credit to the teachers who prepared the students for their speeches. Very well done and entertaining and great to see these young people will someday be ruling our city, country, nation and we're going to be preparing them in an amazing way. Thanked the principals and teachers. Many of our students were able to listen to stories that our veterans were able to share with them. Thanked Shena Jacobs for working with our students as well as the local veterans by bringing them in and having a true understanding of what they've gone through in their lives and experiences. Regarding the bond, the board has agreed to 1 proposition and we'll be meeting with bond council, our council, the architect and the PR firm as we prepare the bond resolutions for an upcoming board meeting. If it's not prepared by our next meeting of the 28th then it will be at our December 12th meeting. Looking at a late winter early spring vote. Commended the board for their due diligence on seeking all the necessary information. Dr. Rianna also thanked the architect, the assistant superintendent for business and the director of facilities as we move forward with this adventure. One of the aspects of the bond that we discussed earlier was monies that were given to us through Assemblyman Levine and Senator Marcellino and those monies would offset some costs. Our administrators are looking for grants and alternative funding opportunities and there are a number of grants in the works and as we get information on those we will see if the impact of the bond maybe reduced for the taxpayer. Thanked all the administrators for their hard work.

Assessment Data – Grades 3-8 – Dr. Israel made a thorough power point presentation on the assessment data from grades 3-8. All members of the board along with the audience members were provided with handouts of the presentation. The board thanked Dr. Israel for the information and addressed questions, all were addressed.

Public Participation

The following topics were presented during the public participation section on agenda items only.

- Is it possible to present a percentage of students who are not academically disadvantaged, ELL or disabled students by pulling out these students and let people know how they performed? It would be nice to know how our struggling students are doing. The newspaper makes it look so bad and I know this is because we have a population of students who are struggling and we have a good opt out rate.
- Until you get the peoples trust and until the lower schools are treated as children instead of like middle and high school students you're not going to get them to opt back in. You can't have testing for two hours even if it's untimed for a fourth grader and have the same thing for an eighth grader because they won't react the same to that type of a time constraint. Any lower grade student doesn't sit for two hours but a middle and high school student can. Until you work that out it's a psychological stress problem for any of these students and affects their test score. That testing time is something and if it could be broken down into smaller time frames I think you'll get a better result from your students. You have this nice setup of tables on the presentation and it would be nice to have those other students who opted out so that there's a percentage. You don't tell me how many disadvantaged students there are, it could be six and you're stated 56%. Same with English language learner and the economically disadvantaged. You also don't combined all three. How many of the disabilities students are the English language learners and economically disadvantaged? You have an overlap in data that skews what you're seeing on the report. If two of these students fit in all three of these categories you have to drop them out of the one because they've been counted each time. Regarding the testing in the schools, the schools do a lot of testing and a fourth grade student doesn't take a final exam like a high school student does. When these students are tested they may get a very good score on the tests in school but when they go and take an exam like the state gives there not at that level of testing and it affects the way their score are and that's why this whole thing is skewed. I've noticed on chrome books that when a student takes a test and hits a wrong button it jumps to the next question. Not allowing him a chance to look at the answer to see if he got it right. The test goes on and he can't go back, he can't review it, can't correct it and he gets a score of 80 instead of 90.

Unfinished Business

President Nedbor-Gross mentioned that administration stated that they would provide the board with the budget timeline. The agenda meetings signup sheet was sent out for those that would like to join us at those various times you could put your names or let us know when you'd be available. One or two sessions each if you can. We have presentations coming up and asked if we could also address a nine period day at the high school in one of the short presentations, also a quick review of middle school programs and how they've been doing over the last few years and student progression. Additionally, would like to meet with our PR firm as it's been a number of years since we last met or have them present something in public when they do their presentation on the bond. I think when there here for the bond we can ask any other questions.

Dr. Rianna stated that the budget calendar would be in this weeks' board packet. You're going to be meeting with the PR firm in two weeks. If you feel that there's additional information that's important you can discuss it at that time.

Trustee Alexandris-Miller – mentioned that if we're going to ask for a presentation from the PR firm it should be something in particular that we want to know or address or a direction we want to go then it would be useful to have a presentation from them but just doing a presentation we have a lot on our plate right now.

Trustee Huggins mentioned that we don't need any more presentations. We don't need to have people coming up here and presenting stuff that's useless. It's like another dog and pony show. We're playing three card monty out here. Let's get the important things done and work on those things rather than have someone come here, waste a bunch of time telling us what they're going to do for us. We're going to see what they're going to do for us. They're working on a bond for us that's enough. We don't need to hear them say "we're going to put things in Newsday for us". Who cares!

New Business – Nothing at this time

Public Participation

The following topics were presented during the public participation section on non-agenda or any items.

- I'm the school nurse at Gribbin and was wondering if we have counsel reports from the students themselves that come and give reports? I thought it would be good to have students give reports on their counselors and what they're doing at the middle and high school level. I'm a Jericho resident and we do that frequently. It draws more interest from the public.
- What is the growth in our district of new students yearly?
- For every dollar a resident gets increased a business gets increased four dollars. That's the ratio. If you add five hundred dollars to a business tax what do they have to do to recover that money? If there selling a hamburger for five dollars and making one dollar they would have to sell five hundred more hamburgers in a year. You don't get five hundred new customers in a year so where is it going to come from? Retail businesses are on a tighter scale so I would be very careful with a bond issue since I don't think it's subject to the cap. The business district will be watching very carefully what the school does to damage them and leave Glen Cove. Some are paying forty thousand dollars in taxes and they have to make that before they make money for themselves and their employees. I have a concern that when it rains the middle school kids can't go out for recess and have to sit at their desks. They can't go in the gym or do anything else. A little exercise during recess might help. Today the Rotary Club of Glen Cove started their annual dress a child program and it went very well. Glad to see the teachers there along with Mr. Roberts. We helped forty-two students today and have another group on the November 27th as well as a group with the EOC in December. Someone told me that an announcement was made at a PTA meeting that this was a school outreach program. I want to assure you that this is not a school outreach program and the rotary club wasn't even mentioned. We spend thousands of dollars every year on this and for someone to say that the school is doing this is absolutely incorrect and the PTA needs to be advised to correct this with their members.

On a motion by Trustee Huggins, seconded by Trustee Field, the Board unanimously (7-0) moved to adjourn the public meeting at 8:49 pm. Next meeting scheduled for Wednesday, November 28, 2018, Middle School at 7:30 pm.
